HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND Hoofland's German Tonic.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from its investigation of the most inquiries possesses the merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, exposure, fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, its circulation becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of these BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; question, never well. Debility, all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail. Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes: Philadelphia, March 18, 1767.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Tonic, useful in diseases and of great benefit in want of nervous action.

A man Bitters' is a good of the digestive organs, cases of debility, and in the system.

Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD, Eighth, below Coates St.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL, Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.

Yours truly, E. D. FENDALL.

THE PRINTER'S HOHENLINDEN.

In season when our funds are low,
Subscribers are provoking slow,
A few supplies keep up the flow
Of dimes departing rapidly.

But we shall see a sadder sight,
When duns pour in from morn to night,
Commanding every sixpence bright
To be forked over speedily.

Our bonds and due bill are arrayed,
Each seal and signature displayed,
The holders vow they must be paid,
With threats of law and chancery.

Then to despair we're almost driven,
There's precious little use in living,
When our last copper's rudely riven
From hands that held it lovingly.

But larger yet those dues shall grow,
When interest's added on below,
Length'ning our chin a foot or so,
When gazing at them hopelessly.

'Tis so, that scarce have we begun
To plead for time on a dun,
Before there comes another one,
Demanding pay ferociously.

The prospect darkens—on, ye brave!
Who would our very bacon save;
Waive, patrons, all your pretext waive,
And pay the printer cheerfully.

Ah! it would yield us pleasure sweet,
A few delinquents now to meet,
Asking of us a clear receipt
For papers taken regularly.

The Methodist Church.

The Lay Delegation Movement in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

During the month of June next a question will be submitted to the votes of the entire membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church, male and female, above the age of 21 years, the decision of which cannot fail to have a marked influence for good or evil upon the future of that large and rapidly growing denomination. This question is, whether the laity shall be represented in the legislative assembly of the church, or whether the law-making power shall remain, as it has heretofore, solely in the hands of the ministry. To fully appreciate the importance which Methodists themselves, of either way of thinking, attach to the result of the forthcoming expressions of the popular will, it will be well to glance at some of the circumstances of the origin and growth of Methodist Episcopacy as an ecclesiastical system.

When John Wesley, in 1739, at the solicitation of Whitefield, who had preceded him in the work, commenced his public ministries as a field preacher in England, he had evidently no design of organizing a church; nor does it appear that subsequently, when he numbered his followers by thousands, and many societies had grown up, and were, with their pastors, under his supervising care, he had any thought of constructing an Ecclesiastical system, outside and independent of the English Church, of which he himself lived and died a member. He instituted a Society as an Evangelizing Supplement to the Established Church, and all the distinguishing peculiarities of this Society, except those pertaining to religious faith and life, were the result of accident. In nothing is Wesley's sagacity and fitness for leadership more clearly manifest than in "that bright intuition which, as by a flash, discerns the true meanings of things present; and which, in the same instant, adapts itself to the shifting circumstances of the hour or day." Lay preaching forced itself on his attention as a good thing, and he adopted it; the class meetings arose by accident, and became a part of his system. Being but a Society, and not a Church, Wesleyan Methodism was ruled by its founder with almost absolute sway, and no Governmental functions or Independent Liberty of action were allowed to his preachers or to the people.

In 1784, Mr. Wesley took the first step toward the organization of a "Church," and in this, as in other measures, he seems to have followed only where necessity or well-defined expediency led him. Previous to this time Methodists had considered themselves as Episcopalians, and had received the sacraments in the churches, and from the ministers of the Establishment; but in America there were now some 84 Methodist preachers and 15,000 Methodist laymen. They were scattered all over the country, and the Episcopal churches being few and inaccessible to many, this large body of Christians was deprived of all "church" relationship, and of participation in the sacraments. Wesley, pitying their condition, and yet wishing to avoid "irregular" action, besought the Bishop of London to ordain ministers who should administer the sacraments among the American Methodists of America. The request being refused he thought himself authorized by the necessities of the case to himself ordain Thomas Coke, already a Presbyter in the English Church, a Superintendent or Bishop of America. On Christmas day, 1784, as many as possible of the Methodist preachers in America met in Baltimore, Bishop Coke presiding, and the Methodist Episcopal Church was formally organized.

Though this church has, ever since, evinced the same aptitude in adapting its polity to changing circumstances, which characterized its founder, and which led to its own ecclesiastical existence, the respect and veneration felt for Wesley has induced the continuance, in the church, of a system, based upon the practice of Mr. Wesley toward his society. From the first the ministry has been the sole legislative power, the people having no effective voice in the making of laws, and the election of church officers. Each church gets one minister. In the Quadrennial General Conferences, until 1812, all traveling ministers of the denomination were entitled to seats and votes. Since that time the General Conferences have consisted of delegated members—themselves ministers, and chosen by ministers. The church edifices are held by laymen, but for the use of the church, and the pulpits can only be occupied by such ministers as are appointed by the bishops. Probably no other church organization exists so completely under clerical control. This has been owing to the influence of no especial class in the church; the ministers have arrogated to themselves no more than has been willingly conceded by the people. There has been a wide-spread repugnance to change. The Church has been well enough as it is. There has probably been no time when then the laity, taken as a whole, have been in advance of their ministers on the subject of laymen's rights. The subject of Lay Representation first began to be agitated among the Methodists half a century ago, and in 1826 the Rev. D. B. Dorsey was expelled from the Baltimore Annual Conference for circulating a paper called "Mutual Rights," the object of which was to advocate the introduction of laymen into the Councils of the Church. An appeal was taken to the General Conference of 1828, when the expulsion of Mr. Dorsey was confirmed. This and other action on the same subject, taken by that body, led to the secession of a large number of ministers and laymen who originated the "Methodist Protestant Church," which today numbers—together with the "Methodist Church," which is an offshoot from it—no less than 122,000 members. The subject continued to be discussed by many who preferred to influence the Church from within rather than to leave it. In 1840 the General Conference said: "We should prove recreant to the trust committed to us were we in the slightest degree to yield to the spirit of innovation." The General Conference of 1852 replied to petitions for a change, that there was "a strong opposition in the great mass of the membership to the proposed change," and that therefore they deemed it "inexpedient to alter the economy of the church." During that year (1852), a paper called The Philadelphia Christian Advocate was started for the purpose of advancing Lay Representation. In 1856 the General Conference spoke of the matter as one which might be practicably dealt with in the future, but thought that any change would be inexpedient at that time. Petitions bearing on that subject were presented to the General Conference of 1860. It was amply discussed, both in committee and in General Conference, which finally resolved, "That we, the delegates of the Annual Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church in General Conference assembled, hereby approve of the introduction of Lay Representation into this body when it shall be ascertained that the Church desires it." In order that the desire of the Church in the premises might be ascertained, measures were adopted for having the question put to vote in every annual conference, and in every congregation of the Church, in the years of 1861 and 1862. In the mean time the civil war arose, and larger and more exciting interests absorbed the popular attention. The vote was very light, having been taken in comparatively few churches. As reported at the General Conference of 1864 it stood: Of ministers, 1,338 votes for and 3,069 against; of lay voters, 28,884 and 47,855 against—giving a clerical majority of 1,731, and a lay majority of 18,971 against Lay Representation in the General Conference. The report on Lay Delegation adopted by this Conference declared, "That while we reaffirm our approval of Lay Representation in the General Conference whenever it shall be ascertained that the Church desires it, we see no such declaration of the popular will as to justify us in taking advanced action in relation to it."

In July, 1860, a paper was started in New York City by a company of New York laymen, for the purpose of advocating the interests of the laymen in the church. It has been edited by the Rev. Dr. George Crooks, who has had as his associates some of the ablest writers of the denomination. The special work of this journal has been the dissemination of intelligence concerning the lay representative movement, and arguments favorable thereto; and such has been the change in the popular feeling among the Methodists, that none of their papers official and unofficial, are openly opposed to the "innovation" once so strenuously resisted, and all but one or two are outspoken in its favor.

Previous to the session of the General Conference, in May, 1868, most of the annual conferences had adopted resolutions favoring some action on the subject of lay representation by that body, and petitions for and against such a course had been circulated more or less freely among the members. These petitions were presented to the Conference; those favoring a change of church polity signed by 25,519 male members of the church above the age of 21, and petition opposed to a change signed by 1,223.—After careful consideration, and diligent effort to reconcile conflicting views, resolutions were adopted by the nearly unanimous vote of 231 to 3, embodying a plan by which lay representatives, chosen by laymen, should be admitted to seats and votes in the General Conference, the adoption of the plan being subject to the approval of the ministers and lay members of the church; such approval to be manifested in a way pointed out by the resolutions, the second of which reads: During the month of June, 1869, on any day except the Sabbath, the time to be determined by the pastor and the two laymen appointed by the Quarterly Conference as hereinafter provided, there shall be held a general election in the several places of worship of the Methodist E. Church, at which all members in full connection, not less than twenty-one years of age, shall be invited to vote by ballot: "For Lay Delegation" or "Against Lay Delegation." This election shall be held under the direction of the preacher in charge and two laymen appointed for the purpose by the Quarterly Conference, who shall see that due notice is given thereof, for at least twenty days before the election, and who shall superintend all the details of the election. They shall report the result within ten days after the election to the Presiding Elder of the district, who shall report the same to the Bishop presiding at the ensuing Annual Conference, to be entered upon the Conference Journal.

The third resolution reads: "Should a majority of votes cast by the people be in favor of the lay delegation, and should three-fourths of all the members of the annual Conferences, present and voting thereon, vote in favor of the above proposed change in the General Conference of 1872, will loyally carry out the will of the laity; and but little, if any, doubt is felt by those best informed in the Methodist Church as to what the will of the lay members of their church will be; this, indeed, seems to be indicated by the tone of their denominational press, which is the reflector, no less than the leader, of popular opinion. The radical change which has come over the Methodist Episcopal Church in the last 40 years may be attributed to several causes. The character of the relation between the ministers and lay members has gradually changed. At first the great body of the laity were poor and uncultivated. The intelligence of the church was largely in the ministry, and its very existence was maintained by the heroic and self-sacrificing labors of the itinerant preachers, who received in return but food for themselves and their horses, and perhaps a suit of clothes each year or two. The churches were scattered, travel was tedious and expensive, gratuitous attendance at a Cobference in a distant town was a privilege not to be desired; and so the laity readily acquiesced in the policy maintained by their spiritual rulers. Things are not so now; the best business talent and legislative experience is now to be found among the laity, who are as ready to devote them to the interest of the Church, as they are to pour out their thousands a year to its support, and the maintenance of its institutions.

The financial interests of the Church also, have become gigantic in their proportions, and it is queried whether their management should be left exclusively in the hands of a class of men who are called to the sole work of preaching the Gospel. The official publishing interests of the Church represent a capital of nearly $1,500,000. The Missionary Society receives and disburses annually from $600,000 to $800,000. The Church Extension Society is appealing to the Church for hundreds of thousands. The Methodists have six theological institutions, 23 universities and colleges, and 85 seminaries of different grades, all of which are more or less under the control of the Conferences of the Church. There are many who advocate the participation of the laity in church government on the ground of abstract right, but this mingling of temporal with spiritual affairs has its influence on many, who would not trouble themselves much about church government if the cares of the ministry were solely of a spiritual nature.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, too, has become essentially modified in its character, and within the last few years has become a corporate body under the laws of both Ohio and New York. The "Board of Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church" were authorized by the General Conference of 1804, and have since been chartered by the Legislature of Ohio, with power to receive, hold, and administer on any property by gift, devise, or otherwise confided to it, in behoof of and for the benefit of the M. E. Church. It is also competent to receive and administer on any special benevolent trust not otherwise provided for in other benevolent societies of the M. E. Church. It is provided in the Charter, that the Trustees shall be elected by and be amenable to the General Conference; that body has received for the first time in its history, recognition as a legal body. A "Board of Education" was organized by the General Conference of 1868, to be chartered under the laws of New York, with power to receive, hold, and convey real and personal estate, and to receive and administer bequests and trusts of every kind relating to education, "under such regulations as the General Conference shall, from time to time, prescribe." The Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, which during its successful history of fifty years had been under the legal control of a board of ministers and laymen, and only by courtesy, under that of the General Conference, has, at the request of the General Conference, recently consented to have its charter so changed as to place the selections of its officers in the hands of that body. These things tend to make the masses of the church consider the introduction of business men into the councils of the church as a thing to be greatly desired, and in no respect to be dreaded; though, as has been said, the more intelligent and thoughtful advocates of lay representation, while they admit the force of the arguments based upon these changes in the church polity, claim the admission of the lay element on higher grounds than those of policy; and the opponents of the same class meet them and oppose the change on scriptural grounds, and claim the exclusive right of the clergy (or priesthood) to govern in all ecclesiastical matters. The Southern M. E. Church, by a popular vote in 1867, admitted lay delegates to their General and Annual Conferences, and the experiment is said to have proved a decided success. This body consists of no less than 2,581 traveling ministers, 3,952 local preachers, and 535,040 members, and its influence upon the Northern Church lying along the border and in the Southern States is not inconsiderable. The result of the vote can, of course, not be predetermined, nor the effect upon the denomination of the adoption of the proposed change; but, as an important movement in the largest religious body of the nation, it is worthy of being chronicled.—New York Tribune.

Culture of the Early White Bean.

A farmer of Cromwell township, this county, writes as follows on the culture of the Early White Bean. I selected a clean upland, corn stalk field; plowed it in the latter part of May and the first of June; top dressed it, lightly with good barn-yard manure, (chip dirt is very good,) harrowed, and prepared the ground by marking it in drill rows, eighteen or twenty inches apart, and several inches in depth; drilled the seed by hand, averaging about six grains per foot, (1 bushel per acre,) run a light harrow lengthwise over the rows, taking two or three rows at a time. After they were up and large enough, I cultivated by means of shovel plow, hoes, iron rakes, &c. Kept perfectly clean to insure a good crop; cultivate shallow; should be harvested as soon as the two-thirds are ripe, which is done by pulling them. Throw four or six rows together, leave them a few days in the sun to dry, turning them every day; when dry, take in to thrash, or put away in some dry place. Care should be taken not to put them in a granary, or large pile, after they are thrashed, before perfectly dry, as they are very easily damaged from heat or mould while in a damp state.

The hulls or straw make good feed for stock and will pay to save for winter feed. The ground is left in a better condition for wheat raising after the bean crop is taken off, than the same would be to fallow it and leave it to grow up with all manner of noxious weeds.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—Some time since a well-known young gentleman appeared at one of our metropolitan churches with a very beautiful young lady, and, invoking the services of the minister, was immediately united to her in marriage. The lady appeared deeply agitated, and there was a stern determination visible on the countenance of the youth—a pale, angry face—evincing anything but joy in the nuptials. As soon as the ceremony was concluded, the man turned to the lady with the remark—

"I have kept my promise now—you are married to me; but I'll never look on your face again."

There was a frantic appeal in the girl's actions and tears; she begged, implored him to recall his words—promised some wild things better left unprinted—and then sank fainting on the floor. The man turned on his heel and quitted the apartment.

What did it mean?

The simple relation of facts looks like the coloring of romance, yet they are true in every particular. When it is further stated that the parties are of high social position, have numerous relatives, and were utterly unattended, the mystery will appear more strange.

The friends have tried vainly to reconcile the matter. An obstinate silence greets every appeal in behalf of the lady, and she, if indeed she can, refuses any explanation.—New Orleans Picayune.

☞ We learn from a friend who visited Washington last week, that the city of magnificent distances, is literally jammed with persons seeking positions under the Government. Congressmen and Senators are hunted, watched, cornered, run down, followed to their meals, called on before they are out of bed, besides being overwhelmed with letters by the bushel, asking for positions of every conceivable character. Asa Packer, with reference to certain legislation that has been presented before the present Legislature, and which was detrimental to the interest of Pennsylvania.

Decoration Day.

We are greatly pleased to notice that extensive preparations are being made throughout the country to celebrate, in a becoming manner, the first anniversary of "Decoration Day." That all of our readers may properly understand what is meant by "decoration day," it being a new feature in the history of our country—one which we hope will become as national in its character, as the Fourth of July, or the 22d of February—we will state its object as we understand it. "Decoration Day" occurs on the 30th day of May, and is set apart for decorating the Soldiers' graves with flowers. About a year ago General Logan, Commander-in Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order that the 30th of May should be consecrated to this patriotic duty, with the intention and in the hope that the custom might become perpetual and the day a national holiday. The order to the G. A. R. was accompanied with an appeal to the patriotic people outside of that organization, to aid and assist in the ceremonies. The suggestion was well received by the country, and the appointed day was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies in every part of the land.

The graves of the Soldiers of Huntingdon county were beautifully and appropriately decorated with wreaths of flowers artistically and ingeniously wrought together by the ladies, and under the auspices of the G. A. R. a large concourse of people assembled in our Cemetery, where the flowers were strewn upon the graves of our departed heroes and a feeling and appropriate address was delivered by one of our most eminent, distinguished citizens. How beautiful, to thus annually consecrate one day in each year to bedeck the graves of our friends with flowers, —they who gave up their lives that our country might live. We know that the members of G. A. R. of Huntingdon county will not fail to perform the sacred duty assigned to them, and we know too, that the ladies, always patriotic, will second them, earnestly and heartily in the noble work and contribute their full share toward appropriately and fittingly performing the sacred and holy task.

Confession of George S. Twitchell.

George S. Twitchell, Jr., who is sentenced to be hanged to-morrow in Philadelphia, for the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary E. Hill, made a confession on Saturday last, in which he charges his wife with the murder for which he is condemned. He says that on the night of the murder he went to his room and instead of going to bed, lay down on a lounge in the room and fell asleep. His wife was in bed at the time; he was aroused at her repeated calls, and ran down to the dining-room, where he found her much excited and saying: "I have had a quarrel with mother and killed her," together they threw the body of Mrs. Hill out of the window to make it look as if she fell out; he then went to the hydrant, washed his hands and face, went to his room, undressed and went to bed; his wife followed him and also got into bed; they were in bed ten or twenty minutes, he says that he made a solemn vow to eternal God, that night, that he would never reveal it; he made the vow to save his wife, and he now makes the disclosure that he may have peace with God.

Such is the confession almost word for word, and we are free to admit that we believe it to be a fabrication, got up for a purpose. Mrs. Twitchell has been tried and acquitted, and is, therefore safe, for she cannot again be tried for the murder of her mother. All efforts to obtain a pardon from the Governor have failed, and Twitchell gets up this false story in order to create sympathy, in his favor, and to give caste and color to the confession. About the time it makes its appearance, Mrs. Twitchell leaves her home and does no one knows whither, as though the whole story were correct and she fears the law will again take hold of her. In our opinion, the whole "confession" is a perversion of facts manufactured to save the life of the man who murdered Mrs. Hill.

DEDICATION POSTPONED.—The dedication of the Mexican Soldiers Monument at Harrisburg, which was to have taken place on the 26th of May, and for which the most extensive preparations had been made, has been indefinitely postponed by the committee having the matter in charge, on account of the delay in the shipment of the Statue from Italy and the failure of the Legislature to appropriate sufficient money to defray the expenses incident to the dedicatory ceremonies.

The Tenure of Office Law.

The Tenure-of-Office question which has hung fire so long and caused a dead-lock in the removals and appointments was finally disposed of on last Wednesday. A new bill was reported by a committee of Conference, which was passed by both Houses, and reads as follows:

SEC 1 Be it enacted, &c., That every person holding any civil office to which he has been, or hereafter may be, appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall have become duly qualified to act therein, shall be entitled to hold such office during the term for which he shall have been appointed, unless sooner removed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, or by the appointment, with the like advice and consent, of a successor in his place; except as therein otherwise provided.

SEC. 2 And be it further enacted, That during any recess of the Senate the President is hereby empowered in his discretion to suspend any civil officer appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, except Judges of the United States Courts, until the end of the next session of the Senate, and to designate some suitable person, subject to be removed in his discretion or by the resignation of another, to perform the duties of such suspended officer in the mean time, and such person so designated shall take the oaths, and give the bonds required by law to be taken and given by the suspended officer, and shall, during the time he performs his duties, be entitled to the salary and emoluments of such officer, no part of which shall belong to the officer suspended; and it shall be the duty of the President, within thirty days after the commencement of every session of the Senate, except for any office which in his opinion ought not to be filled, to nominate persons to fill all vacancies in office which exist prior to the meeting of the Senate, whether temporarily filled or not, and so in the place of all officers suspended, and if the Senate during such session shall refuse to advise and consent to an appointment in the place of such suspended officer, then and otherwise, the President shall nominate another person as soon as practicable to said session of the Senate for said office.

The language of these sections is somewhat ambiguous, and is differently construed by different parties. Mr. Butler, who was for the repeal of the old bill in toto, and was Chairman of the House Committee of Conference, says that the new bill gives the President free scope to do as he pleases in the matter of appointments and removals, and is equivalent to an unconditional repeal of the law. Mr. Trumbull, who was opposed to the repeal, and Chairman of the Senate Committee of Conference, contends that the revised bill gives no such power, but the Senate, under its provisions, may reinstate an old officer removed during a recess, by refusing to confirm his successor. This latter view is in doubtedly the correct one. It is not probable however, that any occasion will arise during President Grant's administration to test the law in this regard. The Senate will hardly refuse to confirm any of President Grant's appointees unless for a very good cause, and the President is not likely to remove an officer except for the same reason, or to press an obnoxious person upon the Senate.

Spare the President.

Scarcely five weeks have rolled around since Grant took hold of the rudder of the good old ship of state, yet he has already broken down under the pressure. A cotemporary says that he "may owe something to the leading politicians, who supported his election; but he owes far more to the People, who would have him for their President, and wouldn't hear of any one else as a substitute. And that People, with great unanimity, insist that he shall save his health and strength for the four years' work devolved on him by their votes, and shall neither sacrifice nor hazard them at the outset in his anxiety to satisfy office seekers, however greedy or clamorous. Before his Inauguration, Gen. Grant advised many friends that he had resolved to have Cabinet officers of his own choice, and to devolve on them respectively the labor and responsibility of scrutinizing and passing upon the claims or merits of rival candidates for office. This was a just and wise resolve, and we regret that it has since been overruled to the detriment of the President's health. In behalf of the great body of the People, who expect no office and seek none, we entreat the President to recur to his original wise, and just resolve, renew it, and henceforth abide by it."

A Chicago newspaper prints a statement to the effect that a half witted boy has confessed to having murdered the Hon. Murray McConnell of Lillilina. The boy says he had a dispute with Mr. McConnell about $11, and, becoming enraged, struck him on the head with a hammer. The boy is left handed, and it is asserted that the blows which proved fatal must have been struck by a left handed person. Mr. Robinson, who is under arrest charged with the murder, maintains a calm and confident demeanor, and feels assured that he will be able to establish his innocence.

The miners in the Nevada White Pine region presented the first born baby in the diggins with silver bars worth several thousand dollars. Quite a start in the world. It is good to be born as the phrase is, "with a silver spoon in your mouth," but better, we think, as far as value is considered, with a silver bar, or several of them, in that natural cavity.

HUNTINGDON, April 3, 1869.

Editors of Globe: I beg a space in your columns, for the purpose of explaining a transaction that has caused much discussion in our town within a few days, and which having floated around, burdened with many mis-statements needs to be explained, in order that all may have an opportunity of viewing it in its proper light.

It has been the feeling for a long time, that the people of every community should have the privilege of saying whether they should have in their midst, places licensed to sell liquor; and it has been the expressed opinion of our best men, that if the consent of twelve men must be had before any certain community should be afflicted with one of these evils, then, according to the principle on which our government is founded, viz:—"popular sovereignty, the majority ruling," instead of twelve men holding this power, the wishes of a majority of those interested should be consulted.

To meet this desire, a committee was appointed by Standing Stone Lodge, I. O. G. T., to circulate petitions, and learn thereby the opinion of the people of Huntingdon county in relation thereto. And also to prepare a bill, to be submitted to the Legislature, that this principle might be made the law. The whole gist of the bill is that instead of obtaining twelve signers to his petition, an applicant for license must obtain the approval of a majority of the voters in the town or township in which he proposes to sell liquor. The Petitions were sent in February last, to every borough and township in the county, and were very extensively signed by the best men of both political parties. In fact no good man who respects the grand foundation principle of our government, could refuse to recommend so fair a law. Many who had not the opportunity, would gladly have added their names to the long list. The bill was sent to Harrisburg, and offered in the House, and referred to the committee on Vice and Immorality during the first week in March, and the usual notice that all local bills get, was published in the Legislative Record, and Harrisburg papers. The Globe of March 17th, and the Journal & American, of March 24th, under the head of local legislation published notice that said bill was presented.

A few days ago, parties whose hearts and moral feelings are in their pocket books, professed to have just unearthed a bill of monstrous iniquity that was being snaked through the Legislature, without anybody knowing anything about it, and were unmeasured in their epithets against the Legislature that could do so vile an act. Earnest men tramped the streets of our Ancient Borough with wonderful zeal that the good people might be induced to rise in their wrath, and crush such base infamy in our law-makers. They found however, many who had read the papers of our own town, and were not so grossly ignorant of published facts, but who had been for weeks wishing the bill God speed and a safe passage.

These are the facts, and I make this statement in order that the truth may be known. I was not on the Good Templar Committee, but at their request, had the honor of framing the bill, and as a consequence am looked upon as its originator and only supporter. I need only say that the friends of that bill are legion.

Permit me to add a few words more upon a matter that should be of interest to this community. The Good Templar Lodge of this town has been in existence over four years, during that time has initiated nearly three hundred members, and has a regular attendance of about a hundred. Although somewhat successful, and accomplishing some good, yet it has not the numbers or the success it should have in a town so large as this, and containing so many true temperance people. The Lodge weekly gathers around its altar from twenty to fifty young men in whom the temperance principle is being imbedded "to grow with their growth and strengthen with their strength." If the Ludge has not reformed many drunkards, it is accomplishing weekly ts main object, that of training up the rising generation in right principles. The benefits of these meetings will be felt by these young men through life, and in after years they will look back with thankfulness that in their youth, they chose rather to spend their evenings, where their moral, social and intellectual feelings and faculties would be fostered and strengthened; than in the dens of vice that fester our town, learning there a life of uselessness, immorality and wickedness, and as a consequence of fear and unrest. A society that does this much, deserves, if not the active, at least the moral support of temperance people. The Lodge however is much blamed for not doing more in the way of breaking up the liquor traffic so extensively carried on in our town. This should not be. It is unfair to ask a few young persons, possessed of little means, to overcome so great an evil. The members of the Lodge both male and female have given much time and labor, in that direction, but to effect anything, all who are interested must join in the effort and then in Union there will be strength. Who are interested? Every wife that has a husband—every parent that has a son. Young men must be taught to resist temptation or the temptation must be removed. At present the temptations in this town are almost numberless, and it is fearful to call to mind the many who are yielding to them. Many parents are criminally ignorant of the manner their sons spend their spare hours, having yielded to the temptations. It is a fact that there are young men in this town who, after bowing at the family altar in the morning, go forth and spend the day in the haunts of sin, revelling in ribald jests and blasphemy, and return at night to deceive their parents into the belief that they spent the day in the company of the upright and virtuous. And can they blamed? The ripe apple does not more naturally fall from the tree, than man falls into temptation. Remove the temptation then. There is sufficient temperance element in this community to crush out the evil, if there could be a united effort. Oh! let the effort be made. There is not a business transaction in the town that would pay as well. Remove the whiskey and grog shops of this town, and the great load of anxiety that weighs down the hearts of the mothers and wives of the town, will be lifted, and that, were there nothing else, would be sufficient recompense. But space will not permit to speak of the peace and safety, the joy and happiness, the morality and Christianity, and many other blessings that would follow.

Respectfully Yours,
J. R. SIMPSON.

INTERNAL REVENUE.
Appeals.

U. S. ASSESSOR'S OFFICE, 17th District, Pa.,
Huntingdon, April 3, 1869.

Notice is hereby given that the annual lists, valuation and enumerations made and taken by the Assistant Assessors of said district, including taxes on incomes for the year 1868; taxes on carriages, billiard tables plate and watches, as of the first day of March, 1869, and special taxes assessed for one year from the first day of May 1869. In pursuance of the Internal Revenue Laws of the United States, may now be examined at the offices of the Assessor and Assistant Assessors in said district.

And notice is hereby given that Appeals from the proceedings of said Assistant Assessors will be received and determined in the office of the undersigned in Huntingdon, on TUESDAY, the 17th April, 1869, for the counties of Mifflin and Huntingdon: and on MONDAY, the 19th APRIL, 1869, for the counties of Blair and Cambria, or at any time previous thereto.

All appeals are required to be in writing, and must specify the particular cause, matter or thing respecting which a decision is requested, and also the ground or principle of error complained of.

THE ÆTNA ST LL AHEAD.

IT has been tried and has never failed to give satisfaction to the purchaser. Farmers will find it to their advantage to call on the subscriber during the April court and examine the above machine. It will be on exhibition at the Court House in Huntingdon during the two weeks of court.

As a combined Machine can be changed from a Mower to a Reaper in a few moments; can be worked with a slow team, it being higher geared than other machines and the draft being reduced to the lowest attainable point. Reaping and Mowing with the Ætna is no harder on the team than plowing oats and stubble. It is believed by all who have tried it that it is the machine best adapted to the wants of the farmers in this county. It has no side draft and no weight on the horses' necks.

We will also have one of the Wood Reapers and Mowers on the ground at the same time. Farmers intending to purchase machines this season will do well to examine the above machines before purchasing elsewhere. All you want is to examine the Ætna to enable you to make up your mind what machine to buy. I am the authorized agent of Messrs. Wharton & Maguire for the above machines, also for the Willoughby Gum spring Drill.

I will also have one of the famous Harpoon Hay-forks on hand, which every farmer should examine, whether he needs a fork or not. Every farmer should have one. They are the best in the market. No farmer that tries one could be induced to purchase any other kind. I have the exclusive right of this county. Wharton & Maguire are my agents for the sale of the above Hay Fork Any other person selling the above forks in Huntingdon county will be dealt with according to law in such cases. Don't forget where to call: At Wharton & Maguire's, or at the Court House during court week.

Improvement is again the order of the day.

The Herald denies that the Tyrone schools have stopped for want of funds.

West Huntingdon is benefitted by a nightly frog concert. Free, of course.

Thirty-six trains pass over the Penna. rails every twenty-four hours.

Signor Blitz is traveling with his show.—Sorry he don't stop here.

An elephant went over the rails to Philadelphia the other week.

Blair county is organizing militia companies, and is therefore ahead of Huntingdon.

Dr. Mudd has been released from Dry Tortugas to take up his habitation on our streets.

James Magwire, of West township, has a sale advertised for the 8th inst. See adv.

"We could not get along without the Philadelphia evening Star."—Tyrone Herald. Nor the Globe either. Eb.

The Bedford Gazette publishes over a column of political announcements which will bring the snug sum of $220.

A rare dish in the Sandwich islands is roast jackass. It is said to resemble what turkey. Thank you, we'll take turkey.

Joseph Forbes, of Chambersburg, broke his leg while trying to ride a velocipede. Bring on your next bone-bruiser.

We are sorry that the editor of the Watchman has suffered from reading some of our puns. How about "toe bad?" Come now.

Our Methodist friends and the reading public generally will be interested in perusing the article on Lay Delegation, on the first page of this paper.

A Mr. Simon Fresh, of Cambria county, was swindled out of all his money at Chicago a few days ago. He must have been a fresh traveler.

We were mistaken in saying last week that Rev. James Orbison, who has returned from India, was a son of Wm. P. Orbison, Esq. He is "only a brother."

Mr. Zach Yenter and Mr. Saml. T. Brown have commenced the razeeing of the old buildings on their lots in Huntingdon, preparatory to erecting three story bricks.

A compromise has been made between long and short dresses. The latter are to be worn by ladies with small feet, while the others are to be allowed to sport trails.

If you go into a store and find boys lying on the counter asleep, you may just bet your bottom dollar that the proprietor don't advertise.

Some villains entered the Union church in Fayetteville, Franklin county, and completely demolished the chandeliers and lamps, and trampled upon the bible.

Thieves still flourish in Lewistown, and have the benefit of a half column notice in the papers. A notice in the court proceedings would be less to their liking.

Nothing adds more to the appearance of a town, or to the public comfort of its inhabitants, than fine shade trees along the front walls. It is this that makes the streets of Huntingdon so beautiful.

We are pleased to see that Wm. Fentiman an itinerant umbrella mender, whose home is here, announces his arrival in the newspapers of the town to which he goes. He will lose nothing by following this course.

The new liquor law for this county, before the Legislature, is causing considerable comment. "Good liquor," we heard a man say, "wont hurt anybody." Ay, there's the rub. The trouble is, too many men are their own Inspectors.

Now is the time for business men of whatever pursuit, to make known their business, and extend an invitation to the public to call and see them, which may be done through the columns of your home newspaper, or by circulars. We are prepared to do either.

We have received the first number of the Progress of Liberty, to which we referred last week, published by O. L. C. Hughes, at Harrisburg. It is a neatly printed weekly and devoted to the elevation of the freedman and the colored race generally.

We are pleased to learn that Kate, the daughter of Mr. William Dean, who was so badly burned at the burning of her home, is recovering rapidly, and will not lose the use of her hands, nor be scarred but slightly. Mr. Dean lost $200 in money in the flames.

Mr. J. L. Holmes has withdrawn from the chair editorial of the Tyrone Herald. We are sorry to lose his thoughtful "phiz." C. S. W. Jones runs the machine alone. May he know what to do and how to do it, is all the harm we wish him.

The State Superintendent of common schools has decided there is nothing to prevent ladies from holding the office of County Superintendent. This being the case a few teachers of that persuasion are candidates in other counties. The males will have to look to their laurels.

We never did like to dun our subscribers, and we don't intend to do so now; but we would just hint, as next week many of our friends will be in town attending Court, that they call round and see us, and we hope they will find us busy writing receipts for money due us.

A gentleman in this place was fooled on the first of April in this wise: Before he was rightly awake in the morning he thought he heard the cry of fire, which was repeated in quick succession. He was about getting up when he discovered that the cry of fire was only the quack of a duck that had been sitting beneath his chamber window.

To Soldiers and their Friends.

By direction of Post No. 33, Grand Army of the Republic, Huntingdon, Pa., the folowing announcement and requests are made to the friends and relatives of deceased soldiers.

At a stated meeting of the Post, held on the 15th day of March, it was

Resolved, That the Post Commander be directed to obtain as complete a list as possible of the soldiers from this county, who are now deceased, with the companies and regiment to which they respectively belonged, the engagements or battles in which they were killed or the places where they died and where buried.

That the Post Commander be authorized to appoint a committee of any number he may be deem proper, of which he shall be chairman, and to take such measures as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of these resolutions.

In accordance therewith the Post Commander, Milton S. Lytle, has selected the following committee and each member will obtain lists from townships for which he is appointed:

M. M. Logan for Shirley, Cromwell, Clay, Springfield, Dublin and Tell.

W. K. Crites for Brady, Henderson, Union, Cass and Tod.

W. P. Rudolph for Hopewell, Carbon, Lincoln and Penn.

H. C. Weaver for Walker, Oneida, Barree and West.

W. F. Cuntingham for Huntingdon, Jackson, Warriorsmark and Juniata.

G. L. S. Baker for Porter, Morris, and Franklin.

Residents of these townships and particularly the friends and relatives of deceased soldiers, are requested to send the information mentioned in the foregoing resolutions. Communications should be addressed to the member of the committee for the township in which the deceased soldier resided.—Partial or complete lists will be thankfully received.

Those lists are desired for use on the occasion of the annual decoration of soldiers' graves, which will take place during this spring or early in the summer.

M. M. LOGAN,
Huntingdon, Adjutant.

The Fish Law.

The fish law is passed and approved by the Governor and arrangements have been made for getting the Bass to place in the river immediately. The details (including correspondence upon the subject,) will be published in a short time. The following is a copy of the law:

A SUPPLEMENT to an act to prevent fishing with seines and to protect bass fish in the Raystown Branch of the Juniata river and its tributaries.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the provisions of the act entitled "An Act to prevent fishing with seines and to protect bass fish in the Raystown Branch of the Juniata river and its tributaries" approved the twelfth day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six are hereby extended to the Juniata river and its tributaries from the mouth of the said Raystown Branch to the source and head water of the said Juniata river.

—Read "our column for the people."

Local Legislation.

Mr. Brown, of Huntingdon, read in place an act to repeal certain acts declaring Standing Stone creek, Huntingdon county, a public highway.

Also, an act to validate the will of William C. Speight, late of Huntingdon county, deceased.

Also, an act authorizing the school board of the borough of Alexandria, Huntingdon county, to borrow money for building purposes.

Mr. Martin, of Juniata, an act empowering Graffius Miller, Esq, late sheriff of Huntingdon county, and David Caldwell, late Prothonotary of the same county, to sue for fees and costs due them.

Harpoon Hay Fork.

Farmers wanting a good Hay and Straw Fork are recommended to try the Harpoon. It is light, simple in construction and durable, and has already been tried with success by many farmers in this and other counties, who have no hesitation in commending its use. Mr. Thomas W. Montgomery, of Neff's Mills, this county, is agent for the Fork, and will take pleasure in showing the modus operandi of it during April Court. Also, agent for the sale of the Etna and Wood Reaper and Mower, and the Willoughby Gum Spring Drill. See advertisement in to-day's paper. 1t*

—Read "our column for the people."

Fatal Accident.

On Tuesday afternoon last, a young man named Jacob Householder, attempted to cross the railroad tracks at the Broad Top Depot, just after a freight train west had passed, when the Mail train east struck him in the side and knocked him against the baggage car of the Broad Top train, causing an ugly gash in his head and otherwise injuring him. He died a short time after the occurrence, and was taken to his home in McConnellstown, where he was buried with ceremony by the order of Good Templars.

☞ Standing Stone Tribe, No. 99, I. O of R. M., was instituted at Mapletown on Tuesday evening, March 30th, by G. S. Chas. C. Conely, G. C. of R, A. J. Baker, with the assistance of members of Arrapahoe 68, and Swartara 80. The following officers were elected and installed: S.—M. L. Rex; S. S.—Levi Himes; J. S.—Archie Dell; C. of R.—Thomas Wymer; K. of W.—A. W. Swoope; Prophet—D. Evans.

MARRIED,

At the M. E. Parsonage, on the 4th of March, by Rev. R. E. Wilson, Mr. THOMAS M. SIMPSON, of Huntingdon, to Miss MARY J. SIMMS, of Rock Spring, Centre County, Pa.

At the M. E. Parsonage, on the 1st inst., by the same, Mr. JAMES E. MCCONAHY, of Mapletown, to Miss SUSANNIE WALLS, of Cass township, all of this county.

On the 2d of April, by Rev. J. W. Plannett, Mr. S. B. Ake, of Williamsburg, Blair Co., Pa., to Miss FANNY KELLY, of Coalmont, Huntingdon Co.

DIED,

March 22d, Mr. JACOB WITERS, an old and respectable citizen on Shavers Creek, Huntingdon County.

In this borough, April 2d, 1869, Miss CAROLINE F. DEARMITT, aged 38 years, 2 months and 3 days.

On the 13th inst., in Alexandria, Pa., Mr. WILLIAM D. SHAW, in the 70th year of hisage.

Mr. Shaw was a development of "the highest style of man,"—a christian. A genial, entertaining friend and companion. His friendship was ardent and confiding. He was a useful citizen and greatly beloved. He will be greatly missed. The community can ill afford such a loss, and when the blow comes it is severe. He was an Elder in the Presbyterian church, at Alexandria, for 28 years. But "death loves a shining mark," and found him with his lamp trimmed and burning.

At day break came the cry,
"To meet thy God prepare!"
He woke and caught his Captain's eye,
Then strong, in faith and prayer,
His spirit, with a bound,
Burst its encumbering clay;
His tent at sunrise, on the ground
A darkened ruin lay.
The pains of death are passed,
Labor and sorrow cease,
And, life's long warfare closed at last,
His soul is found in peace. M.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Ounce of Prevention is Better than a Pound of Cure.

This is the most sickly period of the year but there is a remedy which is a constant protection against the causes of disease; it enters swiftly into the circulation of the blood, expels the morbific substance collected therein during the winter; corrects all morbid changes in the blood; regulates the supply and quality and equalizes the circulation of the blood; promotes the operations of the digestive organs; acts as a mild and efficacious stomachic; invigorates the various glands and calms the nervous system; promotes buoyancy of spirits and feeling; revives the physical energies, and imparts vitality and elasticity to every organ of the human body. It is no less celebrated a preparation than ALLEN'S LIVER BITTERS. Use it now—use it regularly every day—and prepare your system for the changes in the season, and fortify it against the dangers of disease. Huntingdon.

PAINTS FOR FARMERS AND OTHERS.—The Grafton Mineral Paint Company are now manufacturing the Best, Cheapest, and most Durable Paint in use. RECOLLECTIONS OF A BUSY LIFE.

By HORACE GREELEY.

In one elegant octavo volume of over 600 pages, well printed on fine paper, and illustrated with an admirable portrait on steel of Mr. Greely, with pictures of his various homes, his farm, &c, &c., together with a beautiful portrait of Margaret Fuller, engraved by Linton.

Mr. Greeley has said quite: "I shall never write anything also into which I shall put so much of myself, my experiences, notions, convictions, and modes of thought, as these Recollections. I give, with small reserve, my mental history." The book embraces views of early New England settlement, the author's own youthful life, education, apprenticeship, adventures, professional and political reminiscences, experience in Congress, newspaper life in New York, and much useful talk about farms and farming. It is a peculiarly entertaining and valuable work,—a look behind the scenes during an important period of the country's history.

THE

HOWE Sewing Machines

ARE THE

Oldest Established of any in the World.
Over 50,000 Sold in 1868.

These unequaled machines are adapted to every variety of sewing for family wear, from the lightest muslins to the heaviest cloths, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dress Makers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Boots and Shoes, Linen Goods, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods, with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed. Over 50,000 of these unrivalled machines were manufactured and sold during the year 1868. This is unprecedented in the history of sewing machines, and is another proof of the great popularity of the Howe Machine.

They have invariably won the highest honors at the great Exhibitions of the world, culminating at the late Exposition Universelle at Paris, where

THE GRANDEST COMBINATION OF PRIZES

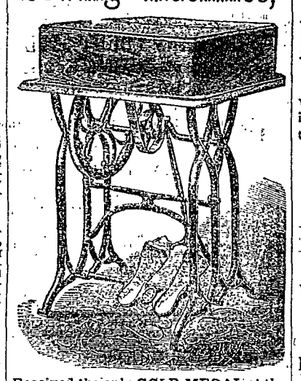
WHEELER & WILSON'S HIGHEST PREMIUM LOCK STITCH Sewing Machines,



Received the only GOLD MEDAL at the PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing and to the use of Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods, with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The qualities which recommend them are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of Thread.
4. Attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

Instructions free to all. Machines kept in repair one year free of charge.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination still they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions of a visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Tic, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will get immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

McGUIRE'S

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hairdresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries. No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article combined in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from any thing of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all pernicious substances. This valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian, and Empress Carlotta of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing—When thus used it at once relieves headach.

McGUIRE'S

WILD FLOWERS FOR THE TEETH.

All those who are in favor of white teeth and a pleasant and perfumed breath should at once use McGuire's Wild Flowers for the Teeth. All those preparations are put up in the most elegant, and ornamental manner. We make no exception in saying that they are an ornament to a lady's toilet table, and none complete without them.
